Loyola School has created a memorial site in tribute to the "heart and soul of Loyola School" — Fr. Eugene J. Prior, SJ.

Please click here to view Fr. Prior's discussion on "The Beauty of Jug", messages from his 80th Birthday, a slideshow of photos from this year's Alumni Dinner, the eulogy delivered by Tony Oroszlany '87 at Fr. Prior's funeral, a description of Fr. Prior's Endowed Scholarship Fund and other links. You can also share your own memories of Fr. Prior.

It is our hope that this tribute page will help all of us fondly remember Fr. Prior's remarkable spirit and his "terrific" life.

Mark your calendars now for this special evening which will begin with Mass in the newly renovated Chapel!

Meet Loyola's New Faculty and Administrative Staff

Kristin Cupillari is Loyola's newly appointed Dean of Studies—better known as Ms. Coop!—taught mathematics at Loyola for eight years before joining the Regis faculty in 2001. Kris graduated from Scranton Prep, and has a B.A. in mathematics from the College of the Holy Cross, an M.A. in mathematics from Teachers College, and an M.F.A. in dance and choral School.

Adrienne Nagy joins Loyola as a guidance counselor and the Amnesty International chapter moderator. She grew up in South Plainfield, New Jersey. Adrienne completed her B.A. in Psychology at Lafayette College and has an M.A. in Guidance & Counseling from New York University. This is Adrienne's first job as a guidance counselor career at Loyola.

Vincent Peterson is Loyola's new Director of Music. An accomplished pianist in New York and abroad, he holds both Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Composition as well as a second Master's in Music from The San Francisco Conservatory, La Schola Cantorum in Paris, and Mannes College, The New School for Music where upon his graduation in the spring of 2007, he was the sole recipient of an Associated Music Teacher's League Award. Vincent has studied music at The Union Church of Bay Ridge in Brooklyn and Artistic Director of a 30-voice theatrical vocal ensemble based in Montclair, New Jersey.

Maricel Piriz joined Loyola School this past summer as Administrative Assistant to the Headmaster. Maricel, a New Jersey native, graduated from McDonough School of Business in 2001 with a B.S. in Business Administration. She recently completed a Masters in Public Administration at New York University from the Wagner Graduate School of Public Service. Before coming to Loyola, Maricel's background was primarily in the human resources field with work experience in the private and nonprofit sectors including Barnes and Noble, Doris Duke Charitable Foundation, and Human Rights Watch.

Barbara Smith joins Loyola as an English and Drama teacher, as well as Drama Club moderator and Speech and Debate coach. She attended the Ursuline School in Westchester, received her B.A. in Theatre from the University of Notre Dame and then completed her M.Ed. through Notre Dame while teaching high school English and Drama in Gulfport, MS. Barbara has also taught theatre residencies in the NYC public schools and at Arizona State University, and directed theatrical productions all over the tri-state area.

Adam Zaremborg hails from Sacramento, California. He attended Jesuit High School in Sacramento before flying east in 1999 to get his B.A. and M.A. in English Literature from New York University. In between the two stints at NYU he coordinated homeless outreach in Philadelphia as a member of the Jesuit Volunteer Corps, and most recently taught English Literature at Notre Dame School, directed a friend. His two favorite books are The Little Prince by Antoine de Saint Exupery and The Cloister Walk by Kathleen Norris. He likes butterflies and good pitching.
